

The Johns Hopkins Medical Institution Housing Office

The Housing Office is situated on the Johns Hopkins Medical Campus to assist students, housestaff, postdoctoral fellows, staff, and faculty for the School of Medicine, School of Public Health, and School of Nursing with their on-campus and off-campus accommodations. Although the Housing Office's primary focus is on student needs, we are happy to assist faculty and staff looking to move or relocate in the Baltimore area.

To better assist you with your search in finding the perfect home, the JHMI Housing website was created to help you find affordable and safe housing in the Baltimore area as well as answer many other questions you may have about Baltimore, student life, daycare, school systems in the city and surrounding counties, and other useful resources.
